

Louise Dente & Ruben Santiago Hudson / Glynn Turman

Lynn Whitfield Ruby Dee which benefited the Ossie Davis Endowment, features highlights of the opening ceremony, hosted by the Hon. David N. Dinkins and actress Ruby Dee and a star-studded staged reading of the work by Glynn Turman, Lynn Whitfield and Reuben Santiago Hudson.

“Cultural Caravan” can be seen weekly on Time Warner cable stations and the Internet. In Manhattan (MNN) every other Saturday (as of March 15) from 1 to 2 p.m. and simulcasts on the Internet at MNN.org. In Brooklyn (BCAT) every Thursday, 6-6:30 p.m. on Channel 35/68 and simulcast on the Internet at BCAT.org. In Queens (QPTV) every Wednesday (8:30-9:30 p.m.) on Channel 56 and Saturday (12 noon-1 p.m.) on Channel 35.

“CULTURAL CARAVAN” AIRS “CLARENDON COUNTY”: “Cultural Caravan” is a weekly broadcast that celebrates the African-American experience with featured performances and informative interviews with celebrities, community artists, educators and activists on topics such as the arts, culture and history. The program is produced and hosted by artist and educator Louise Dente.

This month, “Cultural Caravan” informs it’s proud to spotlight the legendary Ossie Davis, featuring highlights of the premiere presentation of “The People of Clarendon County,” which was written by the late actor. Extremely well produced, the program, held at the Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture and Upcoming programs will feature interviews with the R&B legends Blue Magic, an interview with actor Roscoe Orman of “Sesame Street” and “Confessions of Stepin Fetchit,” and a discussion with historian William Loren Katz on the history of Blacks in New York. Be sure to tune in. EXIT, STAGE-WRITE...